The Institute for Social Research, Sacramento State University

The CALSPEAKS Opinion Research Center at the Institute for Social Research, Sacramento State University, fielded the survey from October 7-13, 2016, yielding 753 completed surveys, including 699 registered voters. However, the results below are restricted to 622 likely voters (those who indicate that they are certain to vote in this election). Results using the broader sample resemble those reported below very closely. The margin of error for the distribution of responses for the overall sample (i.e. not within sub-groups), on any individual survey question, is equal to or less than +/- seven percentage points. However, if looking within sub-groups, the margins of error can be larger – in some cases (among Latinos or African Americans, especially) much larger.

For general information and technical details regarding CALSPEAKS, see www.csus.edu/ISR/CALSPEAKS.

GOCT33 –Proposition 58

Proposition 58 would keep the requirement that public schools ensure that students obtain English language proficiency, but would allow them to easily choose how to teach English learners, whether in English-only, bilingual, or other types of programs.

Do you plan to vote 'YES' to allow public schools to choose how to teach English learners, or 'NO' to require public schools to teach most English learners in English-only programs?

GOCT35—Proposition 59

Proposition 59 would advise California’s elected officials to work to propose and ratify an amendment to the U.S. Constitution overturning the US Supreme Court decision in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission. Citizens United ruled that laws placing certain limits on political spending by corporations and unions are unconstitutional.

Do you plan to vote 'YES' to advise California officials to take this action, or 'No' to not advise them to act?
